

Latest IDC lecture was held on January 25th 2011 at Ant Bookstore in Clifton. Nicole Pratt, a Parent Professional Development Staff Trainer, from Statewide Parent Advocacy Network, delivered the lecture on "Individualized Education Plan and Measurable Goals".

This lecture provided parents and professionals in attendance with strategies to create IEPs with measurable annual goals and objectives as well as the required information regarding student progress. Step-by-step guidance in writing measurable goals to meet student needs was provided. Maintaining high expectations and accountability through the measurement of student progress was also discussed.

Pictures from the event:

